FURMAN-VANDERBILT SERIES INFORMATION

(Vanderbilt leads 3-0)

- Saturday's game will mark the fourth meeting between Furman and Vanderbilt in a series that the Commodores lead 3-0. Vanderbilt defeated Furman 69-68 in Greenville during the 1962-63 season in the first meeting between the two schools, and the Commodores have routed the Paladins in the two most recent clashes, including an 87-63 verdict during the 1995-96 campaign and a 71-65 win in Greenville during the 1997-98 season.

- The 47-point loss to Vanderbilt three years ago was the worst by a Furman squad since the Paladins dropped a 118-66 contest to North Carolina during the 1971-72 season.

NOTING THE PALADINS

- NEXT UP, VANDERBILT... After a full week break for final exams, Furman swings back into action this Saturday when it takes on Vanderbilt in Nashville at 7:00 p.m. CST contest. The Paladins, now 5-2 on the season and off to their best start after seven games under fourth year head coach Larry Davis, blasted Stetson 85-66 on Nov. 9 in Greenville in their last outing behind sophomore forward Karim Souchu's (pronounced GLEAR-may) 17 points and 11 rebounds. Sophomore point guard Guilherme Da Luz (pronounced GLEAR-may) added 16 points and an impressive 10 assists in the win as the Paladins shot 50.8 percent from the field and committed only seven turnovers. The triumph over Stetson followed one of the program's biggest wins in recent years, a 79-74 overtime decision over Florida State in Tallahassee on Dec. 4 in a contest Furman led virtually from wire to wire. Karim Souchu paced Furman's attack against the Seminoles with 24 points, and Anthony Thomas contributed 18, including an 87-63 verdict to Notre Dame, came on Dec. 2 in Nashville.

- SOUCHU OFF TO FAST START... Sophomore forward Karim Souchu (Paris, France), who in early October earned The Basketball News' Southern Conference Preseason Player-of-the-Year tab, has gotten off to a fast start in the Paladins' first seven games, averaging a Southern Conference leading 21.9 points per game. Souchu, who Dec. 5 was named Southern Conference Player-of-the-Week after averaging 23.0 ppg an 7.0 rpg in a pair of games, is shooting a solid 54.5% from the field (61-112) and 42.3% from 3-point range (11x26). Point guard Guilherme Da Luz (Sao Paulo, Brazil), however, stole the spotlight with 17 points, six rebounds, seven assists, and five steals against the Seminoles. The win was the first by Furman over an Atlantic Coast Conference team since the Paladins topped Wake Forest 80-68 in Winston-Salem during the 1987-88 season. Like Furman, Vanderbilt enters Saturday's game after a week off. The Commodores have compiled an 8-1 record thus far, primarily on the strength of eight home games in the early going. Vanderbilt knocked off Florida State 72-60 in Nashville on Dec. 9. The Commodores' lone loss, a 77-74 verdict to Notre Dame, came on Dec. 2 in Nashville.

- ROAD WARRIORS... Two of Furman's five wins this season have come on the road, and that's big news because it's double the number of road victories the Paladins totaled last year when Furman went 1-11 in 12 away contests. Counting last year's 81-68 win over VMI in Lexington, Va., in the regular season finale and road victories over Coastal Carolina (81-67) and Florida State (79-74) this year, the Paladins have, in fact, won three of their last five away contests. Saturday's road game against Vanderbilt will mark the Paladins' fifth away game of the young season. Vanderbilt, on the other hand, will be playing its ninth home game of the campaign when it entertains Furman this Saturday. The Commodores, who have 19 home games on their season schedule, have only played once away from Memorial Gym this year, that coming on Nov. 28 at Western Kentucky (70-66 win).
REMEMBERING THE LAST TIME... The last time Furman paid a visit to Vanderbilt's Memorial Gym (Nov. 18, 1997), the Paladins were blown out 102-55 in the worst loss suffered by a Furman team since the 1971-72 campaign when North Carolina dusted the Paladins 118-66 in Chapel Hill, N.C. Aside from head coach Larry Davis and assistant coach Ken Potosnak, only two players on Furman's current roster, seniors Marcus Dillard and P.J. Brown, were on hand for the debacle three years ago. Dillard, who at the time was making the second start of his career at point guard and who is now in his second year as Furman's starting small forward, failed to score and committed four fouls in 19 minutes of play. P.J. Brown, meanwhile, tallied three points and two rebounds in 16 minutes of action as a reserve shooting guard. Center Daniel Quigley scored 16 points to lead Furman. Vanderbilt, which placed five players in double figures in the contest, was paced by Drew Maddux's 16-point performance. Furman went on to finish 9-20 that season.

THOMAS FINDING THE MARK... In converting 6x13 3-pointers (46.1%) in Furman's last two games, junior guard Anthony Thomas (Atlanta, Ga.) continued to display an improved shooting touch from long range. As a freshman two years ago Thomas converted only 21.7% of his 3-point attempts (13x60). Last year he bumped that figure to 36.2% (38x105), and through seven games this year he is knocking down 38.1% of his 3-point shots (16x42). Paralleling Thomas' improved 3-point shooting is his scoring average: 6.5 ppg (1998-99), 9.5 ppg (1999-00), and 12.1 ppg (2000-01).

TAKING CARE OF THE BALL... A telling statistic behind Furman's improvement over the last couple of years has been a noteworthy decrease in its turnover ratio and corresponding increase in assist, assist/turnover, and steal ratios. In 1998-99 the Paladins averaged 18.3 turnovers/game and finished 12-16. Last year Furman averaged 15.1 turnovers/game on the way to a 14-18 slate. Through seven games this year the Paladins are averaging a Southern Conference low 12.2 turnovers/game.

Southern Conference Leader

DA LUZ RUNNING THE SHOW... A big factor in Furman's improvement over the past year and solid start this season has been the development of point guard Guilherme Da Luz, who heads into the Vanderbilt contest averaging a solid 12.6 ppg and 5.7 apg. More importantly, though, Da Luz, who has totaled 13 steals, has committed only 18 turnovers through seven games. In Furman's last outing, a 85-66 win over Charleston Southern on Nov. 29, scoring 22 points and claiming 10 rebounds. As a freshman a year ago Da Luz tied Furman's single season assist standard (159) and set a new school single game assist record with 14 dishes in a 97-75 triumph over Coastal Carolina. He also averaged a solid 8.8 ppg.

NERVING DISORDER ENDS ARBAUGH'S CAREER... Furman head coach Larry Davis announced on Monday, Nov. 27 that sophomore center Darrell Arbaugh's collegiate basketball career has been cut short due to a progressive neurological foot disorder known as Charcot-Marie-Tooth (CMT). Arbaugh, a 6-foot-7, 255-pound product of Ashland, Ky., who earned starts in 21 of Furman's 28 games a year ago, and who averaged 5.8 ppg and 3.0 rpg, was diagnosed as suffering from CMT this past spring by doctors at Duke University Medical Center. Upon returning to school in August, Arbaugh began experiencing more severe symptoms of the disorder and, following another evaluation, was advised to retire to eliminate an increasing risk of leg and knee injuries. The inherited disorder, which affects 150,000 Americans, causes patients to slowly lose normal use of their feet/legs, and hands/arms as nerves to the extremities degenerate.

ZEIGLER UP TO THE TASK... When a foot disorder recently ended 6-foot-7, 255-pound sophomore center Darrell Arbaugh's collegiate basketball career, the Paladins' lost two inches and 45 pounds at the starting center position. Fortunately, though, Furman has experienced no production cut on the court thus far as Arbaugh's replacement, sophomore Kenny Zeigler (Lithonia, Ga.) has stepped up by averaging 10.1 ppg and 5.9 rpg in seven starts at center. Zeigler, who stands 6-foot-6 and weighs 210 pounds, came through in a big way in the Paladins' 69-59 win over Charleston Southern on Nov. 29, scoring 22 points and claiming 10 rebounds. As a freshman a year ago Zeigler averaged 5.5 ppg and 4.4 rpg.

FURMAN INKS PAIR IN EARLY SIGNING PERIOD... Furman head coach Larry Davis announced the signing of two recruits in November. Nick Sanders, a 6-foot-7 forward from Leavensworth, Kansas, and 6-foot-4 forward Jason Patterson from Lithonia, Ga., signed national letters of intent with the Paladins. Sanders, a three-year starter, all-conference, and all-state selection at Leavensworth High School, averaged 11.0 ppg and 5.9 rpg in seven starts at center. Patterson, who averaged 5.8 points in 12 AAU games with Team Carolina and the Atlanta Celtics. He was a high school teammate of Paladin sophomore center Kenny Zeigler at Lithonia.
